Customer stories and assets

DreamWorks Animation—Trolls

What does it take to design, build, and animate an entire troll village? 121,584 frames, 350 million files, 400 terabytes of data, and one impressive render farm. Using HPE ProLiant servers, DreamWorks Animation was able to increase render efficiency to 200,000 jobs per day and bring Trolls to life in theaters across the globe, faster.

PinkRoccade Healthcare

Working in collaboration with HPE Technology Services, PinkRoccade Healthcare migrated its sister company, PharmaPartners, from an IBM-based infrastructure with NetApp and Cisco to a 100% HPE infrastructure including HPE ProLiant Servers. This dramatically improved performance, reliability, and availability for its proprietary software solutions serving pharmacies and general practitioners across the Netherlands.
